by Germans or British subjects or American citizens for compensation on account of losses they alleged they had suffered in consequence of unwar-ranted military action on the part of German, British or American officers in Samoa, between January 1, 1899, and May 13 following. The question really at issue was whether or not the British and United governments should be considered responsible for the losses.

The arbitrator recites that the United States ship Philadelphia and the British steamer Porpoise and Royalist, on March 15, 1899, opened fire across the town of Apia, Samoa, directing the same against the forces of High Chief Mataafa; that the same vessels brought the newly-appointed King of Samoa, Malletea, and his forces to Mulinuu Point and supplied them with arms and ammunition for the ensuing struggle against Mataafa, In answer to the British and American claims that, under the Treaty of Berlin, any one of the signatory pow-ers was fully authorized to enforce the decision of the Chief Justice of Samoa, declaring Malletoa King, the arbitrator says:

The arbitrator insists that the Berlin conference aimed to establish a principle that, in their dealings with Samoa, the powers could proceed only by common accord, and that, as the consular representatives of the three powers by proclamation had recognized the provisional government of Mataafa, the powers themselves were bound on principles of international good faith to maintain the situation until, by common accord, they decided to change it. The action of the British-American authorities, "tending to overthrow the provisional government, thereby established," it is held, "was contrary to the aforessid obligation, and cannot be justified, either on the plea of the validity ab initio of the said provision of the government, nor its establishment under a species of force majeure."

IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.1 CRANTON (Pa.) Nov. 17.—In the presence of as many persons as could be Jammed into the court-room today Wayne MacVeagh for the Eric company and John Mitchell for the miners, continued their brilliant battle of cross-examination before the other in his seventies, were followed with intense interest by both the commissioners and the crowd throughout the day, and the contest will be re-sumed in the morning.

The fourth demand of the union, which calls for a yearly trade agreement, and which means a straight-out recognition of the union, was the bone of contention, and although four hours taken up in a discussion of the contention of the union, was taken up in a discussion of the contention of the content of the cont question, not much material progress was made. Wayne MacVeagh, skilled in the art of cross-examination, at-tempted to show the utter irrespon-sibility of the union and its unfitness to make contracts which it could not live up to. His principal argument was the alleged boycott, and he often hard-pressed the miners' president for an answer. The later, however, skelly and deliberately gave some spigatid deliberately gave some spigatid

MacVengh, in the presence of the assemblage, expressed his admiration of the ability of the witness, and on one occasion, when Mitchell parried a question regarding the boycotting of a coal and iron policeman by a hotel-keeper, the distinguished attorney threw up his hands, laughed, and said: "Mr. Mitchell, you are the 19st witness for yourself I ever confronted."

REIGN OF TERROR.

Mr. MacVengh weighed heavily on

Mr. MacVeagh weighed heavily on what he said was a reign of terror in the anthracite region during the period of the strike. He read a list of fourteen names of men who were killed during that time, and also submitted in evidence about seventy-five printed pages of acts of alleged violence, boy-cott and intimidation, and with the assistance of statistics and other docu-ments maintained that it would be utterly impracticable for the coal companies he represents to enter into agreements with an organization that could not control its own men.

Mitchell stoutly maintained that the iscipline n the organization is as good are involved. He claimed that the strikers were not entirely responsible for the acts of lawlessness that were nmitted. He regretted that members of the union had in some instances vioade the excuse that less disorder.

WOBBLY ANSWER

In answer to questions he said that where there was a reign of terror, and he had no information that such was the case, during the late strike, conditions arise that are "intolerable" or "unfortunate." Replying to specific instances pointed out to him by Mr. Mac-Veagh, where men had been deterred by the special powers of the methods of a labor organization known as the Operative Placerer's Association of New York against the employers from going to work through fear of personal harm or social ostracism for themselves and families, Mitchell said that in some cases men may have been deterred, but he denied the assertion that such alleged acts presented.

"I only mention these because they are three victims of the spirit of anarchy, which is the curse of this country today, and the only serious curse afflicting it." Mitchell, quick as a flash, came back

Mitchell, quick as a flash, came back with the inquiry: "Trade unions are not held responsible for it, are they?"

To which MacVeagh quickly responded that they were not. The bringing of the word "Anarchist" into the examination caused a distinct murmur of disapproval from the many mine workers in the courtroom.

When the discussion of the effect a yearly agreement would have on the coal industry in the anthracite region was in progress frequent reference was made to the workings of agreements in soft coal regions. This led to the announcement by Chairman Gray that the commission had decided to invite Herman Justi, commissioner of the Illinois Coal Operators' Association, to testify before the commission.

In discussing the Speakership matter today, Col. Hepburn remarked that the election of Mr. Cannon to the place seemed certain. Ex.-Judge Olcott, Molineux's counsel, said the news from Sloux Falls was a surprise to him because the differences between Mrs. Roland B. Molineux and her mother-in-law had been settled, and the family relations, so far as he knew, were amicable.

Gen. Molineux paid his son's wife's expenses all the while his son was in prison, and last week the General made a public statement about his daughter-in-law, in which he said. 'She is as good and paye a woman as breathes.' He said he had traced all the stories concerning her and found they were faise.

So much can be predicted from the way Cannon and those around him talk.

Gov. Tart has also been in favor of a modification of the Chinese exclusion laws, as applied to the Philippines, and believes that the commission should be allowed discretion in the matter of admitting Chinese labor. There is also reason to believe that the commission thinks greater intitude should be permitted in the matter of franchises, as a grant of 5000 acres to one concern is not sufficient to induce capital in large amounts to engage in developments in the islands.

It is not probable that Secretary Root will make any insistent regulations regarding the Philippines, but will lay before Congress the report when it comes, with such approval as he thinks necessary at the present time. It is said the Secretary is not disposed to have many changes made in the present Philippine laws, as he believes that sufficient time should be allowed to see whether conditions will not adjust themselves in a satisfactory manner.

of a formidable nature.

Finding they were prevented by the English Board of Agriculture from shipping cattle alive to England the South American houses some months ago set to work in earnest to ship dead meat. At first they tried freezing it but with poor success, for the cargoes came to market in much the same state as Australian frozen meat—hard and altogether outclassed by the American chilied beef. The latest shipment from South America was in the opinion of the market practically as fine in condition as the American chilled beef, and it sold at prices only a shade below those of the American commodity. The problem of cheaper meat also is brought nearer to solution by the news that Argentine has agreed to accept the terms which the Board of Agriculture has so long stipulated for as the only condition upon which British ports could be re-opened to live stock from that country.

LABOR.

is their fundamental right to ask for living wages in return for their labor. The examination for a few minutes became very spirited on this phase of the consequences of the strike, and then MacVeagh turned to the matter of protecting the properties during the strike. Replying to questions by MacVeagh on the right of private parties to protect their property. Mitchell said that the provision in the miners' constitution against pickets grew out of the Homested strike, when a number of private detectives were employed as guards, most of whom he declared had been recruited from the slums of Philadelphia, and other large cities. Mitchell insisted that the city, county and State authorities were competent to handle the matter.

NOT HELL TO MITCHELL.
Raising his voice to a pitch and speaking with great fervor, MacVeagh asked the witness:
"Don't you know as well as you know your name is John Mitchell, that in spite of the authorities of this city of this county, and of this State, this whole region has been treated for five months to a vertiable foretaste of heil?"

Hart to rob her of her place on that account. Judge Gray repeated the question.

"As a general proposition," said Mr. Mitchell, "I should say no. It is going to an extreme which no labor organization advectaes." He said, however, that under some conditions it would impair the efficiency of the teacher's removal, at least, until the matter should be quieted down. Mitchell, in response to questions by MacVeagh and Judge Gray repeated the unestimated the matter should willingly perform all the duties of citizenship, and other large cities. Mitchell in advectagh pressed Mitchell hard for a stright-out expression on boycotts. The attorney read a list of fourteen me who were killed during the strike, and Mitchell said that a number of these were killed by coal and iron police, and that of the fourteen, ten of them did not belong to the union. A list of the seriously injured was also put in evidence by Mr. MacVeagh.

DYNAMITE AND VIOLENCE.

"Don't you know as well as you know your name is John Mitchell, that in spite of the authorities of this city, of this county, and of this State, this whole region has been treated for five months to a veritable foretaste of hell?"

Mitchell calmiy replied: "I don't know anything of the kind."

"Well, you will before we are through with you," was MacVeigh's retort.

Commissioner Watkins here took a hand in the examination, and brought out that none of the pickets employed by the companies represented by MacVeagh had been recruited outside of the community.

the community.

MacVeagh then read Gov. Stone's proclamation calling out the troops, in which the Governor said there was a reign of terror in the region. Mitchell denied the correctness of the Governors.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY QUESTION. The eight-hour day question was taken up, and in reply to a cuery as to whether he had a right to limit a man's labor to eight hours a day. Mitchell took quick notice of the word "anarchy," as employed by Mac-Veagh, and with considerable spirit, promptly inquired: "Trade unions are not held responsible for it, are they?"

"No, certainly not," said MacVeagh, "trade unions are most admirable, but you make a demand upon us that we shall prohibit every man in our employ from working more than eight hours. That strikes us as perfectly indemissible."

Upon the request of Judge Gray, he said that the afficers of the union under pay had contributed 37 per cent. per month of their salaries for the benefit of the striking miners. The fact was brought out that Mitchell had had telephone conferences with Senator Hanna just previous to the settlement of the strike of 1900.

"Well. I understand they were very apprehensive."

MacVeagh asked if any advance secured by the miners was not due to that apprehension.

"I believe," said Mitchell, "that the fact that an election was pending had something to do with the early settlement of the strike.

Mitchell denied that he had any conference with the coal operators at that time, and said that during the strike Senator Hanna had spoken to him over the telephone, and had sent Daniel Keefe, president of the International Longshoremen's Union, to see him. He denied that it was through Keefe he agreed that if the 19-per-cent, increase was grapited the strike would be called off, but said Senator Hanna had told him the operators had decided to make the offer of 10 per cent.

DYNAMITE AND VIOLENCE.

DYNAMITE AND VIOLENCE.
Judge Gray took a hand in the examination and asked Mitchell:
"In how large a degree does the success of a strike depend upon the existence of such a reign of terror or such conditions as have been characterized as intolerable?"
"I should say," Mitchell replied, "that its success would not be dependent upon it at all. The very conditions alleged would be to reduce the chances of winning the strike."
"In my judgment," he continued, "violence never contained to the success of a strike, because it loses for those on strike the sentiment of the public."

Judge Gray: It has an influence on public."

Judge Gray: It has an influence on those who are willing to work in deterring them from work, has it not?
Mitchell: I have no doubt it does deter them to a limited degree. I do not think any of the anthracite men were deterred from work who would work, for the reason that in the vicinities where the largest number of troops were, there were no disturbances of our men. So it would indicate that the men were not on strike because they feared to go to work, although a man may have been deterred because of ostracism.

"I do not think," Mitchell replied to a question, "that the mines could have been started this winter, or any time during the summer, even in the absence of one act of lawlessness. I do not believe a sufficient number of men would have returned to work on the wages paid for a year."

Mitchell, after further questions, said that any man who would use dynamite for the purpose of destroying property ought to be sent to the penitentiary, no matter whether he was a union man, an operator or anybody else. He said a miner was well versed in the use of dynamite and knew when it could be exploded without injury.

"It is a peculiar thing," said he, "that no one was hurt, no building blown up. The miners, if they wanted to blow up property, knew how to do it."

"Don't you see you have given your whole case away?" Inquired Mac-Veagh, ""I don't see how," responded Mitchell."

whole case away." inquired Mac-Veagh.
"I don't see how," responded Mitchell.
"They don't want to kill people," sar-castically remarked Mac-Veagh. "they wanted to intimidate them without having their necks on the gallows."
"Do you think they sought to intimidate the railroad bridges?" Mitchell asked his inquisitor.
"They sought undoubtedly to prevent the movement of troops by exploding dynamite under the bridges." No, Mr. Mac-Veagh." was the reply. "I do not think they did. I don't think your people were averse to trying to create a sentiment against the strikers." "We did not need to do so. They created it against themselves only too rapidly."
"Well," said Mitchell, "if the public had been voting on it, you would have found a considerable majority on the other side."

Mitchell closed his testimony for the day by stating in answer to a question that the alleged acts of intimidation and violence did not contribate to the success of the strike at all.

him the operators had decided to make the offer of 19 per cent.

MacVeagh here took up the suggestion for a yearly agreement, and attempted to show that the union could not control its members and therefore an agreement is impracticable.

Mitchell said there were many differences that both sides justly complained out by agreements.

"I dare say." Mitchell remarked, "if our union violated the contract the people of this country will take good care that we have no union left. There will be no question about that, and if the operators violatie if the people of the United States will see that they regret R."

Mitchell said this was a country of majorities, whereupon MacVeagh replied; "Yes, but God with one is a majority. If a man is doing right, He is on his side."

ORDER MAY BE RESCINDED.

SCHENECTADY (N. Y.) Nov. 17.—It would seem from tonight's developments that the Trade's Assembly tomorrow will rescind the order, boycotting the Schenectady Railway Company. Twenty ments and that his stand was untenable.

Delegate Sheridan of the Amalgamated Association, a colleague of President Shaffer in the convention, threw a bomb by asking unanimous consent to introduce a resolution calling for an investigation of the charges. Both parties announced that they courted the investigation, and it will be referred to a special committee of five, two to be selected by President Gompers, two by President Shaffer and the four to choose a fifth.

After the adjournment President Shaffer anserted with great emphasis: "The entire thing is a scheme to injure me and to discredit me so that I cannot be reflected. I had no part in the presentation of the resolution offered by Sheridan, and I believe that he and Gompers are in collusion regarding it."

When this was shown to Sheridan he denied that there was any cooperation between himself and President Gompers. The latter sald: "Shaffer may be entirely correct when he says he does not desire the introduction of the resolution, but it is utterly false that I am in collusion with Sheridan or anybody else in this matter."

A resolution that before any union shall make a demand for a change of wages and conditions it be referred to the central body for action was reported adversely by the Committee on Boycotts, to which the resolution was seterred, and its action was sustained by the convention.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17.—The general opinion among the delegates is that Shaffer is not in an advantageous position. The resolution came as a surprise, the delegates having no knowledge of the matter until just before the convention opened. Whatever proof of his charges he may have elsewhere, he has by his own admission none with him. His only reliance to uphold the burden of proof, which is on him, is his personal narrative of the great steel strike of 1901. He said late this afternoon;

"I was taken wholly unaware in this matter. I had not discussed the charges which I made before the last convention of our union, the United Iron, Steel and Tin Workers at Wheeling, W. "The charges I made against Mr. Gompers were included in a little pamphlet which I sent out after the settlement of the strike in 1901. I claimed that we were entitled to the aid of the American Federation of Labor, and inasmuch as we did not get it, charges were made that President Gompers had acted in a manner unfriendly to the cause of organized labor. "I am confident that the members of our organization are too loyal to be drawn away by any such proceedings as this, and I am not worrying about the matter in the least."

Gompers said: "The charges cannot be upheld because there is no truth in them. The best years of my life have been given to the cause of organized labor, and I have never had a thought or performed any action which was not intended for its advancement. I welcome an investigation. There has been no collusion between Mr. Sheridan and myself regarding the presentation of his resolution. It knew it was coming and so did Mr. Shaffer. My hope is that the special committee will act promptly and that its report may follow closely upon the charges."

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The farewell reception to Chamberlain was a memorable affair for Birmingham, and the whole of the surrounding district turned out to do honor to its hero. The City Hall, in which the banquet and reception was held, was decorated with a wealth of flowers and garlands of evergreens.

The scene at the close of the meeting, when, escorted by detachments of yeomanry, artillery and the naval brigade, the Secretary and wife and son started on their way home, was picturesque in the extreme. As Chamberlain entered his carriage, 4600 torches lining the route, burst into flame, a band struck up "Auld Lang Syne," and the mighty, crowd cheered vociferously and joined in singing. Presently a sharp descent in the road afforded a view of a quarter of a mile of torches and thousands of people,

HOW THE TIMES TREATS LABOR.

THE LOS ANGELES TIMES regularly pays to its skilled, reliable and acceptable workmen wages that average from $3.75 to $4.50 per day for time work, and from $4 to $5.50 per day for piece work. These rates are higher than are paid by any competing newspaper; and another advance has recently labor than any journal in all the Southwest. Its cash disbursements on this account between August, 1890, and the end of September, 1901, aggregated $1,007,000.81, and its annual expenditures for labor of all classes, both skilled unakilled, now average more than $175,000 per year. There never has been any attempt, in any quarter, to deny these specific and telling facts, and the proprietors challenge such denial if made. Not for years has The Times had any trouble with its workmen, who are independent of unions, leyal to their employers and themselves, well satisfied and prosperous. The Times controls its own business in its own way, subject only to the laws of the land; and no interference with that control can be lawfully or justly made. The result of its fixed policy has proven highly beneficial to all concerned, and the justness and correctness of its course have for years past re-ceived public approval in most marked and conspicuous ways, the circulation esived public approval in most manual steadily and largely outstripping that and advertising patronage of the paper steadily and largely outstripping that THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY. Since no attempt whatever has ever been made in any quarter to refute, or even dispute, the accuracy of the foregoing authoritative statements, our defeated maligners are estopped; and the public is amply warranted in giving no eredence to contemporary hostile assaults upon The Times management in the matter of its relations to its workmen, or vice versa. However diverse may be the opin ions held by voters as to most of the proposed charter amendments, there can hardly be any great diversity of opinion as to the desirability of civil-service reform in the conduct of the unicipal government. That is to say, there will not be much difference inion on this subject among the better class of citizens, who desire to see the city government conducted, so sible, upon business principles, and as completely removed as on to introduce civil-service retion would go far toward the aboli-tion of the political "pull," with all that the term implies. Aspiring cantes would not be able to promis ses at the ple-counter for their fastrikers and heelers, irrespec tive of fitness; or, if they made such es, they would not be able to deliver the goods, and their promise would be of even less value than they

The object which it is proposed ish through this amendment "to bring practically all position in the municipal government that are not of an administrative character under the competitive merit system Under this system, appointments t positions in the municipal service will made only from a list of persons who have been examined by a com-petent commission with a special view to their fitness for the work which they will be called upon to do The list does not include school teachers, officers elected by the peo-ple, heads of administrative depart nts, nor common laborers.

It is proposed that the system shall be in charge of a board of five commissioners, to be appointed by the Mayor, subject to confirmation by the Council, for a term of four years. Not more than three members of the mission can be members of the same political party, they are to hold no other office, they are to serve without compensation, and may be removed at any time by the Mayor, with the consent of the Council, for incom petency, neglect of duty, or mal-feasance.

It will be the duty of these commissioners to examine candidates for appointment. All examinations are to be public, and free to all citizens. When appointments are made, the appointees are to be selected from the list of persons who have successfully passed the required examination. # STREET CLEANING.

HOW NOT TO DO IT.

BY FRANK DONALDSON, M.D.

BY FRANK DONALDSON, M.D. Formerly of Col. Waring's special staff.

Nothing adds so much to the attractiveness and healthfulness of a city as well-paved, well-cleaned streets. Why, it may be with good reason asked, has snot this charming and beautiful Los Angeles ordinarily neat streets? Why are the vacant lots eyesores, and, in many, many instances, fitthy, unhealthy spots?

is elected by popular vote.

Third—The Mayor has, therefore, no authority of removal.

Fourth—The work being done by contract, the Council alone has the power of awarding such contracts.

If there is one thing as certain as death and taxes, it is that you can't get clean streets under such a villain-ous system.

It was Col. Waring who first swept the streets of New York by direct work; it was the first American city to employ this method; the result everyone knows; it was the first American city (to our shame, be it said,) to have clean streets.

Toront—changed about the same time from contract to direct work under Commissioner Jones. From the margin saved he built and equipped a complete set of workshops, in which were made all the apparatus of every sort used in street cleaning. His organization was such, and the improvement in wasons, tools and what not, so great that it now takes four men and four horses to do the work which formerly (under the contract system) took nine teams and seventeen men to do, and do about half as thoroughly.

But it is not just here that I wish to dwell on the enormous advantages of the direct method of street cleaning under a competent commissioner so much as on the uselessness and extravagance of the contract system.

much as on the uselessness and extravagance of the contract system.

The whole system is wrong. It is a chief agency in producing and continuing bad government; it evolves continual temptation to use money and personal and political influence to secure contracts, which, it can be safely said, are never in the city's interest. It is a facile agency of the man who deals in favors and votes; and the Councilmen who vote for any given contractor can, and invariably do, demand places for their henchmen. The immediate result is a constant change and shifting of the sweepers, so that their jobs being uncertain, their work is indifferent and done without interest.

The contract system gives extraordinary power to the inspector. He is always a man with a pull, and working hand in glove with the contractor, who, of course, makes it worth the inspector's while not to be too observant as to the thoroughness of the work Contract street cleaning means a department in which official incompetence escapes much deserved notoriety, and so is tolerated by the public. It means a department removed from the details and processes of its own work, and dependent upon actual tenders for a knowledge of reasonable prices. G. E. Hooker, writing several years ago in the Review of Revigws "On Cleaning Streets by Contracts—A Sidelight from Chicago"—says in this connection: "Only to a department hobbling along upon the crutch of a contractor, and so distracting attention from itself, would the Mayor have the temerity to appoint as superintendent a man so absolutely unfitted for the place as the recent head of the street-cleaning department in Chicago." The contract system gives extraor-

What may seem to the contractor observant and patient public much more like leaving them very dirty.

Again, as to the laborer: As was said, the places of the men are at best uncertain; they are invariably underpaid, and the whole business leads to direct traffic between the men supplying the labor and the contractor. The laborer invariably getting the worst of it, anywhere without turning a hair or varying her smile. The men's work is very good. Rapoli, juggler, and Carver and Pollard in their tedious, vulgar skit are the holdovers.

neat streets? Why are the vacant lots eyesores, and, in many, many instances, flithy, unhealthy spots?
Without at this time going into the detailed proof of this statement, I desire to show how it is absolutely impossible, under the present system of municipal organization in this city, to have clean streets.

First—The work is done by contract. Second—The Street Superintendent is elected by popular vote.

Third—The Mayor has, therefore, no authority of removal.

Fourth—The work being done by contract, the Council alone has the power of awarding such contracts. If there is one thing as certain as death and taxes, it is that you can't long the programme undesirably. "The Serenade" beings out the capabilities of the company more completely than "The Idol's Eye," with which the encagement open. d. It is more plausible in conception, more rational in execution, less fantastic and flimsy, than the last-named production. It has far better music and far more of purpose. It is a true comic opera, with quite a number of really fine lyrics, while the choric numbers, being rendered with force and volume, are effective. The action being at a "castie n Spain" and at a monastery, opportunity is afforded for attractive scenery and varicolored costuming. The latter, though not very rich, is picturesque, and the presenta-billities of the company more completely billities of the company with the encagement open. The company's "tower of strength"

edy. Mr. Hartman's duke is an amusing if somewhat conventional old fellow, and as consistent, perhaps, as it is requisite to make any character in a comic opera conceit. The topical song interpolations, especially the local "hits," were duly appreciated.

As Carlo Alvarado, Arthur Cunningham scored a distinct success. His voice has much vigor and carrying power, while he looks the part and acts it with good results. Joseph Fogarty gives a very satisfactory rendering of the bandit Romero. Oscar Lee, as Lopez, made a hit in his tenor solo. in the third act, but had little to Lee, as Lopez, made a hit in his tenor solo, in the third act, but had little to do otherwise. Karl Formes, Jr., as Gomez, and Edward Webb as Colombo, furnished a goodly part of the comedy, in a manner which was appreciated. Bertha A. Davis invests the character

Bertha A. Davis invests the character of Dolores with interest and grace. Her voice, though not of great range, is full-toned and melodic. It is also under good discipline, and her action is full of vivacity. Annie Myers as Yvonne sustains her popularity. Almee Leicester enacts very cleverly a dual role—as the Cook and as The School Mistress. Other paris are acceptably sustained, the entire company working together in notable harmony.

"The Screnade" will give place on Thursday evening to "The Toy Maker," which will hold the stage during the remainder of the engagement, closing Saturday night.

tence escapes much deserved notoriety, and so is tolerated by the public.

It means a department removed from the details and processes of its own work, and dependent upon actual tenders for a knowledge of reasonable prices. G. E. Hooker, writing several years ago in the Review of Reviews
"On Cleaning Streets by Contracts—connection: "Only to a department hobbling along upon the crutch of a contractor, and so distracting attention from itself, would the Mayor have the temerity to appoint as superintendent a man so absolutely unfitted for the place as the recent head of the street-cleaning department in Chicago."

Under the present charter of Los Angeles matters are worse, for the Mayor has no power of removal, and it is to be sincerely twasted that this condition of things will be changed by the adoption of the new amendments, which give the Mayor the power of appointment and removal of the Street Commissioner. In such case, if the Mayor makes a bad appointment of a man as a political reward, public sentiment would soon be roused and the commissioner's dismissal forced upon the chief executive.

It is utterly impossible to make a contract for sweeping streets which will be fair to the city or fair to the laborer. Everything on earth is comparative. As I understand it, at present in Los Angeles the contractor is oblized to sweep the streets between certain hours. Just what the term sweeping the streets means it is hard to say.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) HONOLULU, Nov. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch. Wired from San Francisco November 17.] The cruiser New York Nevember 17.] The cruiser New York broke the navy record for coaling here, yesterday, puring in 850 tons of coal in six hours. This remarkable speed was due to the fact that the full band of the ship played during the whole time that the "jackies" were rushing coal aboard. It seems that the em-pioyment of the band was suggested to Capt. Mackenzle by the band mas-ter's application for 48 hours leave of absence from the ship, "to get away from the dust and dirt of coaling." Instead, the Captain ordered the band to play for 48 hours. It was stationed on the bridge during the coaling, and receied off martial airs. Two rival gangs of "jackies" were coaling, one getting coal from a lighter alongside and the other from the wharf alongside and the other from the wharf. The "jackles" trundled wheelbarrows of coal at a lively trot. They began at 7 o'clock in the morning and fin-ished at 1 o'clock, thus breaking the world's naval coasing record.

Feeble Resistance from Rebels-Matos Shuts Himself Up.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
CARACAS (Venezuela) Nov. II.—[By South American Cable.] A tugboat has arrived at La Guayra from Carupano bringing the news that on Saturday the government troops, under command of Gen. Vulentini, attacked and reoccupied, almost without fighting, the seaport of Cumana, which has been in the hands of the insurgents.

The Dutch Governor of Curacao has notified Gen. Matos, who reached that island November 13, that he must observe a strictly neutral attitude and conduct, otherwise he would be asked to leave Curacao.

Gen. Matos has shut himself up in his house at Willemstad with his family, not wishing to be seen.

FAKIR'S MISFORTUNE.

Gets Mixed in a Saloon Row and is Sent to Jail-Paid for Broken Glass.

A quartetie of fortune-tellers is just now doing the town and apparently they are much worse than mere fakirs in the world of mystery. They hang around the saloons and low resorts and are litle less than street-walkers, it reports are true. They carry a city license authorizing them to ply their trade as fortune-tellers. Yesterday afternoon one of them was loafing in the saloon of Frank Wood at No. 116 doors. A policeman was called and the woman sent to the station, the proprieter of the saloon saying that he would a considerable collection of high-class hosiery. This is not a "special sale let," but is the result of heavy selling from our regular stock. We have grouped together all of the broken lines and an odd assortment of and marked them at prices all the way from 25 to 50 per cent less than the regular selling price. Here are a few of the items, but many of the most pronounced values are not listed.

No Bread Like Jevne's

Because Jevne's is heme-made bread—and nobody else sells heme-made bread. Some people who are using Jevne's home-made bread would rather have a slice of it than a whole leaf of baker's bread. Jevne's bread has a rich, wheaty flavor, is full of goodness, beautifully light and brown. It's like getting a loaf of old-fashioned, home-made bread when you get Jevne's bread. Five and ten cent loaves.

IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.1
BRUSSELS, Nov. 17.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The police here arrested an Englishman named James Hardie on suspicion of his having been connected with the attempt made Saturday by Rubino on the life of King Leopold. The prisoner turned out to be James Keir Hardie, M.P., the former chairman of the independent Labor Party, and a well-known labor leader. He was subsequently released, and lodged a complaint at the British Legation. Hardie threatens to make his arrest an international affair, and will appeal FOR BOARD EQUALIZATION.

HAT ACCUMULATES HEAT.

"Why-but don't you need some protection against the direct rays of the sun?" objects our friend "Hearsay."

Yes, and should give ourselves the full benefit of it, wherever attainable. It is worth while to take a detour for the sake of tree shade, a roundabout trail through the woods, rather than roast in the giare of a treeless pike road. Leaf shade does mitigate sun heat; caps and hats do nothing of the kind. The demonstrable fact is that they aggravate it. HAT ACCUMULATES HEAT.

and the control of the kind. The demonstrable fact is that they aggravate it.

A felt hat and a stout cloth cap (waterproof, almost, and certainly airproof) partly holds back the exhalations of the scalp pores and gathers animal warmth in summer, just as much as in winter, but besides, it partly also transmits sun heat, and accumulates its effects on the principle of an attic roof that makes the atmosphere beneath almost insupportable while a carpenter at work on the outside would enjoy the benefit of every stirring air current.

The test of a thermometer—there are small-sized ones of the self-registering variety—would reveal some unexpected facts and prove that the air imprisoned between a hat and the owner's skull often rises half a hundred degrees above that of the breeze cooled atmosphere.

PROPER WINTER HEADWEAR

PROPER WINTER HEADWEAR. But in the blizzard season—does not our North American climate make a our North American climate make a head protector rather acceptable? Unspeakably so, where protection does protect. A Mackinaw hood, cloth-covered and fleece-lihed, and muffling up the wearer's chin, ears and nose, leaving just interspace enough for a gleam of light in the altitude of the cyes, is worth every penny of its price, but a ing fust interspace enough for a gleam of light in the aititude of the eyes, is worth every penny of its price, but a stiff hat, protecting nothing but the nature-protected scalp—a uniform cap, on, worst of all, a "stove pipe?" One might just as well procure a section of sheet-iron stove pipe and carry it around by way of faith cure charm.

Shaims of that sort warm nothing but those parts of the skull that never feel cold while their hair sticks to its roots. Prof. Liebig of Glessen, Germany, intwented a freezing mixture, which in two seconds will turn a cubic foot of water into a chunk of hard ice, and it is nossible that a shower of that compound might make a man feel cold on top of his head. Rain, snow and storms cannot do it. The weather-proof comfort of the upper scalp furnishes something like a key to the mystery of such phenomena as a couple of Newfoundlanders romping in the midst of a snow tornado or shaggy musk-oven browsing complacently in a moss patch while the frost of an arctic winter turns their breath into a spray of snowflakes.

Nature's plan of protection dees answer its purpose where textile arts fail, but only that abundantly well-sheltered part of the head gets the additional teguments of fashionable headwear. Verily, to him who has shall still be given. In Paris, where it is not always summer, juvenile exquisites, wearing 310 fur caps, risk to come home with their cars frozen.

BEST SUMMER HAT.

BEST SUMMER HAT. Where prejudice cannot be de" straw hat with perforated crown

A sensible old doctor in Cincinnati, O., rented rooms in a vacant hilltop building every summer for the special purpose of giving his children a chance to find a bout barcheaded and barefoot in vacation time. They got as brown as gypsies before the end of August, but also about as weather-proof, laughting at "colds," rheumatism and sunstrokes.

Bare feet and bare heads case the labors of the face, which otherwise has to do the work of exhalation for the entire organism, and consequently is so often drenched in sweat. That vicarious martyrdom should at least be a little more distributed. When a large surface of the skin is exposed to the open air the surplus of organic humidity evaporates unperceived, and the idea that abundant perspiration is a sign of good health is a superstition, reminding one of Walter Landor's rhyme:

WOMAN'S GOOD EXAMPLE. year round, at least on one's own territory or in free-and-easy communities, for the natives of Navasota, Tex., became rather proud of a big Nor-weglan teamster who hauled cordwood for them in wind and weather and "advertised the genial climate" by refusing to wear a hat. His own explanation was intended to banter the local bald pates. "I've made my wife a bet," he said, "that I can keep my hair on as long as she can," but it my hair on as long as she can," but it is really a suggestive fact that the females of our species cannot be easily beaten on such wagers. Their bonnets are mere trimmings, added to the ornament of their uncurtailed hair, and in that respect at least our sisters keep nearer to nature than their brothers. On an average one sees about fifty hald-headed men to one buld-headed woman.

Men's Diseases.

As medical science advances, the more apparent becomes the folly of employing harsh and dangerous measures in attempting to cure the atiments of men. Drastic dosing and usless cutting have done irreparable injury in thousands of cases. I cure all private diseases of men promptly and permanently, and by painless methods that produce undesirable results.

My Treatment for Weakness. Functional derangement, such as premature loss of power, etc., is neither a "weakness" nor a disease. It is a symptom of prostatic disorder. To stimulate activity by the use of powerful tonics is an easy matter, but such results are merely temporary drug effects. Most doctors treat "weakness" in this manner because they do not know how to cure the real cause of the derangement. I am the only physician employing scientific and successful methods. I use no tonics at all. My treatment is a local one entirely, and corrects every abnormal condition of that vital center, the prostate gland. My cures are real cures, and are permanent.

Sensational Scene at Church of the Nazarene Last Evening.

Dr. Stephen Bowers of this city hinks he has located heaven. Furthinks he has located heaven. Furthermore, he says it is hollow.

Dr. Bowers is an examiner of the State Mining Bureau. He is a geologist, an astronomer and a believer in the inspiration of the scriptures.

Dr. Bowers made known his "discovery" at a meeting of the Church of the Nazarene, last evening, and a sensational scene followed. By many the doctor's dictum was halled as the greatest revelation made since the reatest revelation made since the New Era dawned.

New Era dawned.

Dr. Bowers couched his declaration in scientific terms. He said he had submitted his theory to five learned pedagogues, and it had laid them fla:
on their backs—that is, they had been unable to controvert him.

The gentlemen who are unable to answer his questions and who, he said, have tacitly admitted their defeat, are: Prof. E. E. Barnard, the noted astronomer; Prof. S. W. Burnham of Chicago, ditto; Prof. C. A. Young of the Princeton observatory; Prof. James E. Keeler, director of Lick Observatory; Prof. Simon Newcomb of the Naval Observatory, Wash-comb of the Naval Observatory, Washington, D. C.

The lecture has been prepared by Dr. Bowers after fourteen years of study, he says, and is now mentioned in the public press for the first time. Dr. Bowers is an active member of the Church of the Nazarene (Los Angeles street,) and it was by request of Rev. Dr. Phineas F. Bresee and others in the Nazarene group that it was given last evening.

The hall was filled by half a thousand persons. The effect of the lecture upon the audience was "clectrical," and stirring scenes were witnessed.

After talking for about half an hour upon "The Wonders of Astronomy," confining himself to the solar system and the conjectured universe beyond,
Dr. Bowers said:

"Perhaps the most candid reply was that of the wenerable Prof. Simon Newcomb of the Naval Observatory, Washington City. He said: 'I do not know anything about this subject and cannot well find out.'

Ralph Staples returned from the field yesterday and reports that the Mountain Jewel. Mining Company, a Long Beach corporation, headed by J. P. Hays, of Los Angeles, is planning the erection of a ten-stamp mill on that property, in which very fine ore has been exposed since the company acquired it several months ago.

The Silver Wave mill is in full operation, and ten stamps are dropping right along. The ore handled carries good values, and the proposition is said to be a paying one.

On the Colton claims, and other properties many are engaged in doing assessment work, at least ten outfits now being in the field.

"The caffre is a promising one," said Mr. Staples yesterday, "and will be heard from this winter. The district is highly miheralized, and there is much capital available to open the properties. Nobody except the 'Cabinet of the Purp'e Mother' are allowed to converse with these children or have anything to do with them. I know nothing personalle of the manner in which they a e treated. I do know, however, that there are two divisions—one at the colony and one at the homestead. The homestead is where the better class of children live. I asked Mrs. Tingley what had become of this money, and she said that woman got it all, meaning that he had given it to the woman for whom he had described my mother. His suspicious actions toward a lit-tle girl, a child of perhaps 7 years, attracted the attention of several men on Sunday, at the corner of Fifth and Wall streets. The child server and Wall streets. The child escaped him by going into a house and the men trailed Westenberg to the Nazanim by going into a house and the men trailed Westenberg to the Naza-rene Church, near Fifth and Los Angeles istreets. and sat down in a rear chair next to two other little girls, where his in-decent and insinuating actions were repeated. Discovering that he was watched, he left the church and was followed to St. Viblana's Cathedral, at Second and Main streets, and was found there by an officer who had

That erstwhile delectable old fiddler, That erstwhile delectable old fiddler, William Henry, who folled the police when arrested for vagrancy by putting in the plea that he had a legal right to beg, got his third dose of justice yesterday. It was only on Thursday high the was again in the tolls, and Justice Austin took mercy on him and sent him below for ten days

To a wreck of a man, such as William Henry, it is a mercy to put him where drink cannot find him. He will be recalled as the alcohol fiend who claims to have traveled all over the United States as a violinist and vocalist. He has but a thumb and little finger on his right hand, but the frozen look that tinged his flesh when he first fell under the police net has in a great measure disappeared. It was thought that the sudden shutting off of the stimulant might have a se-

An example was yesterday made of C. W. Former, who drove recklessly over the street at Fourth and Spring, when traffic crowded the thoroughfare between 5 and 6 o'clock on Saturday evening. He was fined 55, to which was added a lecture concerning the rights of other people on the streets. Many more examples of the same character are needed, as it is at that time of day next to impossible to cross exalted station of a "mac" for some of the tenderioin fairies, brutally abused Bradshaw.

He first knocked him down, and then kicked him in the face repeatedly, even turning to give him another kick after the officer had hold of him. When he was arraigned yesterday he had no word of defense to offer in answer to the policeman's testimony. He no doubt anticipates the imposition of a fine which the nasty earnings of the gyps will pay, but a surprise may be in store for him, as Justice Austin ordered him to appear today for sentence, and directed that Bradshaw, who was not there to testify yesterday, should appear at the same time.

Victor Rivera was arraigned yester-day for carrying concealed upon his person a huge butcher knife. He de-manded a jury trial, and the hearing was set for next week. Rivera was one of Patrolman Arguello's big haul of seventeen culprits, mostly of the peon class.

Eugene Merfield unhesitatingly plead-ed guilty yesterday when arraigned on shop of a pocketful of watches and mis-cellaneous articles, while the proprie-tor stepped into the next room to take a snooze. The boy testified that he was not yet 19 years of age, and that he recently came here from Tucson, Aris. The extent of his punishment was taken under advisement until today.

Weakness.

My treatment for functional weakness is original with me, and is the only scientific and certain method being employed. It is based upon absolute knowledge as to underlying conditions. I treat by a local process, such as no other physician employs, and one that cannot fall to restore the full degree of strength and vigor.

Varicocele and Results Varicoccie and Results Varicoccie produces a large bunch of knotted and twisted veins on the left side. They can be readily distinguished by the feel. I only want my patient from five to seven days to guarantee a radical and permanent cure of every case.

Every case of contracted disease I treat is thoroughly cured; my patients have no relapses. When I pronounce a case cured there is not a particle of infection or inflammation remaining, and there is not the slightest danger that the disease will return in its original form, or work its way into the general system.

Contracted Disorders.

Specific Blood Poison,
The idea that specific or contagious blood poison is incurable still exists in the minds of thousands of physicians, who centinue to salivate their patients with potash, mercury and other dangerous minerals. I positively cure this disease, never to return, and I use only vegetable remedies that can have no harmful effect

PROSECUTING SALOON MEN.

BANTA BARBARA, Nov. 11.—The first of the saloon cases in which arrests were made on account of the recent order of the police department to have all places closed Sundays, and in which no conviction was secured, was tried this morning. The city officials expressed satisfaction with the evidence at hand prior to the trial, but the principal witness proved disappointing, and the suit was dismissed upon the motion of the defense. The defendant was R. T. Cure, employe at the Olympia saloon, arrested ployé at the Olympia saloon, arrested a week ago on a charge of selling liquor on Sunday. Tomorrow a new case—that of E.

san Bernardino, Nov. 17.—The grim: hideous desert, where men have famished by the score, has claimed several more victims. This time it was not horrible thirst that killed, but the fact that the men found water. It was heavily charged with arsenic and the bodies of those who quaffed were left beside the deadly spring.

The finding of bleaching human bones on the great waste is not an event that creates much excitement in this region, the discovery of the remains of an entire party caused wonder and speculation among the prospectors, and especially as they had met death so near a pientiful water supply. No sooner, however, had Airell and his party drunk of the water, than they understood what laid low the unfortunate party. All were seized with cramps, some of the men suffering intensely. THE CHILDREN ENJOY Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy which acts gently, pleasantly and naturally without griping, irritating, or nauseating and which cleanses the system effectually, without producing that constipated habit which results from the use of the old-time cathartics and modern imitations, and against which the children should be so carefully guarded. If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines, when medicines are not needed, and when nature needs assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs.

Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the gentle—Syrup of Figs.

The boys of Co. I enjoyed a little target practice yesterday on the San Rafael range. If ever there is a war again, watch Pasadena's guardsmen. They can shoot along the part of a man's hair without cutting a single lock. Yesterday's was the second of the tri-annufal meets. The last for this year will be held next month. The high score yesterday was made by Private Dixon, 67 out of a possible 75. The targets were 200, 300 and 500 yards, and each man had five shots at each range. Col. Lawson and J. H. RED SPIDER TAKES HOLD. discovered another insect pest that is bound to keep them lying awake nights. It is the festive red spider, scarcely visible with the microscope, whose appetite for leaves is altogether out of proportion to his size. The Farmers' Club will likely discuss the pest at the next meeting.

WIRELESS EXTENSION TO FAR-OFF PLACES.

GEN. NEW SAYS HE'LL REACH HONOLULU AND ALASKA.

Officials Pleased With San Pedro-Avalon Service, and Considering Removal of General Offices from Denver to Los Angeles.

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 17 .- Gen. A. L. New, general manager of the Pacific Wireless Telephone and Telegraph Company, and F. W. Armstrong of Denyer, general superintendent, ar-dyed last evening, from Avalon, where they have been traced. both ometais say that operations will begin at an early date on the extension of the system. According to Gen. New the company is handleapped, owing to the failure to secure wire and other material for the establishment of more stations.

Gen. New states that his company has applied for a patent on a new receiver, which is superior to anything yet invented. The designer is Mr. Swenson, head electrician of the "wireless," who, together with Chief Engineer Merriott, succeeded in getting up a system of wireless telegraphy that is claimed to surpass the Marconi Invention, in that messages may be sent and received under all atmospheric conditions.

"We are satisfied that our system of wireless telegraphy is superior to any other in the world," said Gen. New, "and it will now only be a matter of a short while before we establish com-munication with Alaska and Honolulu. SAN PEDRO BREVITIES.

For the past few days the tides have gone to both extremes. The harbor has been full of water in the forenoons, while the afternoons have seen the swell dorp considerably below level. This peculiar feature of tide weather was very noticeable yesterday, when a number of large vessels made their way into the inner harbor during the morning and tied up at the different wharves. For several hours the high tide remained, but in the afternoon it seemed to leave rapidly, until the larger ships in port were leaning on one side, scraping bottom. The passenger steamer Ramona arrived from San Francisco with a cargo of freight and a number of passengers, but it was impossible for her to land at the Sait Lake station, East San Pedro. The vessel was forced to anchor in mid stream, while a ferry boat carried the passengers to the railroad depot. The Southern Pacific company has commenced work on replacing the wharfage that was damaged Thursday evening by the steamer Coronado. G. W. Jacobs has charge of the construction, and states that about forty piles will be required. A large pile-driver and a force of men are employed in straightening out the wreckage, which, it is said, will consume the better part of three weeks, at a cost of nearly store.

H. I. Knex of San Francisco arrived this morning, and will spend a week here on business,

THIN-TOPPED BRIDGE IN SANTA MONICA.

SINEWS OF STEEL DO WORK OF MUCH CEMENT.

Only Six-inch Thickness for Crown of Sixty-foot Arch-Steam Plow Does Labor of Many Horses-New School

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 17.—The bridge which is going up for the city on Ocean avenue southerly from the pavilion embraces a striking feature of construction, which is rare in this part of the country. The plans call for an arch structure of concrete. Uusually in a bridge of that kind, when there is a considerable span, as in this one, where one of the reaches is sixty feet and the other sixty-six, a massive piece of work is expected.

This work is massive in its foundations, but at the crown of the arch over the sixty-foot span the concrete under where the driveway is to be will be only six inches thick. Under the part of the pavilion embraces a striking feature of horses and mules, which, for many years, have been lords of the agricultural realm east of town. The chault in the demand for the product, and higher prices also rule. Many buy-feur idea, which gained a foothold last aummer in the harvest fields, has been introduced into the plowing operations. The big oil-burning traction engine purchased for Shee Bros. last summer has been attached to the plow, or to a gang of plows, and is turning over the soil at the rate of fifty acres per ten-hour day. It performs the labor of forty animals, and requires the services of four men instead of eight. "The traction engine for plowing and harvesting was purchased as a matter of self-protection," said a ranchman to, day, who is not directly interested in the enterprise. "The high prices demanded for labor and the uncertain qualities of many of, the hands employed on the ranches have brought about the present conditions. The man required for the operation of the traction engine and the farming apparates that goes with it, are of a more reliable class. They must be experts in their line, and they have professional reputations to sustain. They get good wages and it is to their interest to stick to their posts, and not leave their places vacant at just the moment they are most needed."

Trolley Cars Soon.

Hiking up the Temple-street hills and down again is what many of the residents of that section of the city did yesterday—and what they will continue to do for many days to come.

For the old Temple-street cable cars are a thing of history.

They do not run any more: that is why the people walk. They had been so uncertain that people out that way gained experience as walkers long ago.

The city went to work yesterday to cut down the enormous grade on the street between Olive and Figueroa. Of course the old cable system could not operate while the workmen were busy lowering its roadbed four feet in some places and raising it six feet in others.

Lots of people waited an hour or two yesterday for a Temple-street car at Main and Spring streets—only to learn that the old rattle-traps are no longer in the service.

The passing of this road is really a pathetic matter.

A CARD TO THE LOS ANGELES PUBLIC.

A TRUTHFUL TELLING OF THE FACTS OF THE "BOYCOTT."

Fourteen months ago an imported walking delegate of the Typograpical Union came to us and threatened that unless we stopped advertising in the Los Angeles Times, that this store would be boycotted. We paid no attention to such demand, and were boycotted. We are twenty-one years old as a commercial establishment, and reserve the right to run our business as we see fit. That part of the Typograpical Union represented by the Union Labor News, and its two hirelings, Rogers and Hay, would attempt to run it for us. They have stopped at nothing—no lie too great but they have uttered it; no disreputable action too base but theirs have been the hands that guided it. We shall now disprove every lie, show up every underhanded action of these dastardly persons that the public may become acquainted with the facts. While we are not given to sensationalism, our public will agree with us that in instice to correlive it to row our our sensationalism, our public will agree with us that in justice to ourselves it is now our due to pose these unprincipled persons (Rogers and Hay) in the list of rogues to which they belong. We have no unfriendly feeling towards the Typographical Union or any other labor organization, and it is common knowledge that we have more than once shown our friendship for labor interests, but this unwarranted fight instituted by Rogers and Hay has unconsciously been allowed to draw labor organizations into the boycott. They have been used as catspaws by these arch conspirators to further their own ends.

During the twenty-one years of our commercial activity among you, you have learned that we have been foremost in every good movement that has for its aim better methods of mechandising and equitable treatment of patrons and employees. You will therefore be interested in our daily articles on the subject of this boycoit until our traducers have been thoroughly unmasked and punished.

Though the days in this climate may be warm enough, the nights are far too cool to risk contracting colds by insufficient bed covering. It is not altogether necessary to have extra heavy weight blankets or always the strictly wool ones, but they should be sufficent thickness to make you comfortable.
